Heads-up!

Dear Parents and Carers,

As we approach the end of the spring term, the lovely sunshine is very welcome and learners have been enjoying our outside spaces during break and lunch times.

With this in mind I'm pleased to say that our outdoor activity Feast days are almost full, so hopefully everyone who wants to attend now has their place.

Children have embraced Red Nose Day and shared their activities in today's assembly; fingers crossed for some interesting pictures in next weeks' newsletter.

As you will already be aware, Wednesday 2 April, is the day when those who normally have a hot meal will have a packed lunch; the classes have been in contact about lunch choices, but any queries please email or call Admin.

I hope you all have a wonderful weekend.

Alison

Friday 21 March is World Down Syndrome Day and in celebration Mr Western's class all thought about and wrote down - 'what I want to be known for', one of the key themes up for exploration.

In Christina's class they've recently been learning all about different sources of electricity, which has led on to investigating the different types and components of electrical circuits.

Learners tested a range of electrical circuits to see which ones work and which ones didn't. They then took it a step further by drawing their electric circuits with symbols and calculating Ohms law.

Demi's class had a wonderful time outside, enjoying the spring sunshine.

Matty from the Malton School Primary Sport Partnership has been coming to school every Friday to deliver a range of sporting activities to our learners.

His day is split into five sessions; three in the morning and two in the afternoon and so far, our learners have done basketball and football, with recent introductions to handball and pickleball. They've also enjoyed having a go at dodgeball.

He has been funded by the North Yorkshire Inclusive School Sports Partnership to come into school for an eight-week programme, so we're very grateful to them for their support. Matty says our learners are participating well and are all very polite – so well done to them!
