Heads-up!

Dear Parents and Carers

We are all busy planning for transition into our new groups in the last week of term. Our deputy headteacher, Amanda, has been meeting all the new pupils and families and we are very excited to meet all the new pupils and welcome them into school!

I wanted to update parents about the building works and let parents know that the House and grounds around it will become a building site and officially completely out of bounds from 15th July. Our staff and pupils have coped amazingly well this year, without the House. We are on track to have everything fixed by June next year in time to reopen in Sept 2025.

Please note for the FEAST activities, we will work around the building works and look forward to putting these days on over the summer holidays!

Daisy Chain Learning Workshops & Holiday Activities

Daisy Chain charity works to support and empower autistic and neurodivergent individuals. They provide a range of holistic, person-centred services designed to promote wellbeing, inclusion and acceptance.

Their Learning Workshops include lots of online sessions for parents and carers on strategies for summer holidays, which can be booked here:

<https://daisychainproject.co.uk/product/learning-workshops/>

They also have a range of summer holiday activities for children, from week beginning 22 July and going through to week beginning 26 August, which all take place at Daisy Chain farm in Stockton-on-Tees. See here for more details and to book:

Bin There, Drum That

Miss Young's class have recently completed a 6-week percussion workshop provided by AMP, youth music development charity.

The workshops aimed to give students the chance at music making and everyone really got involved. The class have now created and performed their very own rap – and we thought it was brilliant!

Our sincere thanks must go to musicians Harry and Tom, who have demonstrated their skill, kindness and enthusiasm to work with our pupils and produce something really special. We must also extend our gratitude to AMP who made it all possible.

AMP work with trusted partners, such as North Yorkshire Music Hub, to deliver high quality music-making. They champion the transformative potential of music to change the lives of children and young people.

Mrs Barker's class were lucky enough to have a trip out to Scarborough on Wednesday.

The proceedings started with a game of bowling; all students did very well and some of the boys got more points than staff!!

They then enjoyed fish and chips or for one student - a GIANT hotdog.

The day was rounded off very nicely with a delicious ice cream.

What a treat!
